Sea-Tac Third Runway Water Quality Certification

On Friday the 21st, in accordance with directives from the Pollution Control Hearings Board (PCHB), we reissued the third runway Water Quality Certification to incorporate language from a settlement agreement reached between our agency and the Port of Seattle. We agreed with the Port on how to adjust/modify language in a few of the certification conditions to clarify how the Port will mitigate environmental impacts of the new runway and associated projects. The modifications give the Port more certainty regarding our requirements without weakening the certification. Ecology and the Port jointly asked the PCHB to approve the language changes.
