PORT OF SEATTLE AND 33RD LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT CANDIDATE FORUM

WHY DOES THIS MATTER TO US?

- Laws and Budgets: local elections matter for airport noise and pollution issues. State leaders directly impact local resources and your quality of life. They help make the rules and decide how your tax dollars are spent on things like public health, environmental protection, affordable housing, and jobs.
- Our Neighborhood: In our district, a big issue is how living near the airport affects our families. People who live here deal with loud noise and air pollution from SeaTac airport. Lawmakers and Port leaders can help find solutions, like regulating air quality and noise levels

FORUM THEMES

The Port of Seattle and 33rd Legislative District make decisions that impact our daily lives. This forum is an opportunity for candidates to address key issues around:

- Environmental & Health Justice
- Policy & Regional Regulatory Coordination
- Workforce Access & Economic Barriers
- Community Engagement & Prioritization
- Funding & Sustainability Challenges

WHAT DO THESE JOBS DO?

- Port Commissioners: Make decisions about Sea-Tac Airport and the Port of Seattle that directly affect our neighborhoods. They set policies on airport noise, air pollution, and business opportunities for local residents. Port Commissioners can push for stronger protections against airport impacts, support small and minority-owned businesses, and decide how community mitigation funds are spent.
- State Legislators: Write and vote on state laws and budgets that shape our daily lives. They can champion funding for soundproofing homes and schools, improve air quality standards, and secure resources for affordable housing and local jobs. State Legislators are our voice in Olympia, making sure airport-impacted communities like ours get the attention and support we need.
